PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

LEGISLATIVE, EXECUTIVE, AND JUDICIAL BILL VETOED.

The Old Objections Re-stated—Supervisors and Marshals left without Authority—Fraud to Ensue.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The President in his message, after stating the main purpose of the legislative bill, which he returns without his approval, says: "This money is needed to keep in operation the essential functions of all the great departments of the government—legislative, executiveand judicial. If the bill contained no other provisions no objection to its approval would be made. It embraces, however, a number of clauses relating to subjects of great general interest which are wholly unconnected with the appropriations which it provides for. My objections to the practice of tacking general legislation to appropriation bills, especially when the object is to deprive the co-ordinate branch of the Government of its right to firmly exercise its own discretion and judgment touching such general legislation were set forth in my special message in relation to House bill number one, which was returned to the House of Representatives on the 29th of last month. I regret that the objections which were then expressed to this method of legislation have not seemed to Congress of sufficient weight to dissuade it from renewed incorporation of general enactments in the appropriation bill, and that my constitutional duty in respect of general legislation thus placed before me cannot be discharged without seeming to delay,however briefly, the necessary appropriations by Congress for the support of the Government."

He then quotes the clauses repealing sections of the revised statutes in relation to Supervisors of Elections and deputy marshals, and states that the bill if approved, would repeal or amend sections of the act approved May 30, 1870, and amended February 28, 1871, entitled "An act to enforce the rights of citizens in the United States to vote in the several States of this Union, and for other purposes," and says the true meaning and effect of the proposed legislation are plain. Supervisors with authority to observe and witness the proceedings at Congressional elections will be left, but there will be no power to protect them or to prevent interference with their duties, or to punish any violation of law from which their powers are derived. If this bill is approved only the shadow of authority of the United States at the nationa elections will remain; the substance will be gone; the supervision of elections will be reduced to mere inspection, without authority on the part of supervisors to do any act whatever to make the election a fair one; all that will be left to the supervisors is permission to have such oversight of elections as the political parties are in the habit of exercising without any authority of law in order to prevent their opponents from obtaining unfair advantages. The object of the bill is to destroy any control whatever by the United States over Congressional elections.

He states that the Senators who now hold their seats were elected under a law that has stood for thirteen years, and their constitutionality has never been questioned, although it is as questionable as the law now governing the election of Representatives.

He concludes by saying that the polls should not be a sanctuary for the violators of law; that no exigency exists for the repeal of the existing election laws; that no Congressional election occurs till after the regular session, and after expressing his regrets that he cannot coincide with Congress, disapproves the bill.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—SENATE—A petition was presented from citizens of Rhode Island, complaining of their deprivation of the right to vote on account of the property qualification. Senators Blaine, Hill and Vance indulged in a sharp debate over intimidation in the South and then adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—The veto message was read, and the House failed to pass the bill over the veto by a vote of 112 yeas to 91 nays.

Fire and Loss of Life.

HAGERSTOWN, May 29.—About two o'clock this morning fire was discovered on the lower floor of the Washington House. Before alarm could be given it had gained such headway the flames rushed up the stairways, cutting off escape. Upward of sixty persons were registered besides the regular boarders, nearly all of whom were compelled to make their escape by climbing down the porch pillars. One man fell from the third story and is lying in a critical condition. Two bodies have been found burned to a crisp—one unknown. Six persons are missing and supposed to have perished in the ruins. Fifteen are seriously and twenty slightly injured.

Yellow Fever in the West Indies.

PARIS, May 29.—M. Waddington, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs, received a dispatch from the second secretary of legation at Porte-au-Prince, Hayti, saying: "M. Rochchouart, the French minister,died of yellow fever two hours after being attacked; his private secretary and first secretary of legation were dead of the disease. I myself feel the first symptoms.

The Darien Canal Estimates.

LONDON, May 27.—The figures of the estimates of the comparative costs of the several routes proposed for a ship canal to unite the Atlantic and Pacific, as given in yesterday's dispatch, are probably wrong. A Paris dispatch to the Daily Standard says: "The subcommittee on the cost of the work reported that the Tehuantepec project would cost £40,000,000, without including the cost of terminal ports; the Nicaragua £28,500,000; the Panama £43,000,000, exclusive of indemnity to the railway company; the San Blas £52,000,000, and the Atrato Nipipi route £44,000,000."

The committee on ways and means of the Darien canal congress proposes a transit duty of fifteen francs per ton, at which rate it estimates that the gross receipts of the canal will reach £3,600,000 per annum. The committee is opposed to government assistance to the enterprise. The commercial committee of the congress considers the proposed transit duty too high.

A London Mystery.

LONDON, May 27.—The remains of a woman, aged apparently between 50 and 60 years, were found in an area cellar of a house occupied by a German named Baslendorff, who took lodgers, at No. 4 Euston Square, on the 9th instant. The discovery was made by a man employed to clear a space on the cellar floor for the reception of coals, and who struck with his spade the clothing of the deceased while digging in the rubbish. The features were entirely gone, the arms and legs dissevered from the trunk, and the hands and feet missing. Quick lime had evidently been employed to destroy the body. There was a thick sash line around the bones of the neck, indicating that death had been caused by strangling. Surgeons who examined the body were of the opinion that it might have lain there many months, or even two or three years. It is now believed that the remains have been identified as those of Miss Hacker, an eccentric maiden lady of Canterbury, who at one time occupied lodgings at No. 4 Euston Square, and a servant employed there at the time, named Hannah Dobbs, was arraigned at Bow street yesterday charged with the murder. The officers of the crown think they have sufficient circumstantial evidence against this woman to convict her. The murder was doubtless committed for the purpose of robbery, and occurred some time about the month of October, 1877.

College Matters at Wake.

Correspondence of the News.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, May 29.—The Committee appointed to hold the competitive examination for the Whitfield Latin Medal, has awarded the same to Mr. Thomas P. Womack, of Yanceyville, N. C. He had for his competitors, Messrs. L. N. Chapel, J. M. Davis, L. Y. Montague, B. C. Moore, C. B. Moore, B. H. Phillips, E. M. Poteat, W. H. Bagsdale, J. L. Rogers, J. B. Silcox and D. L. Ward.

Mr. Womack is a very modest, quiet young gentleman of brilliant attainments, of a quick, perceptive mind, of close application, and possesses a zeal commensurate with his other good qualities. His standing in the other departments is not inferior to his attainments in Latin. He has a pure noble heart, and that with his fine mind would angur a brilliant career for him in life. He is now only eighteen, there being but one of his competitors younger. We extend to the young gentleman our sincere congratulations.

THE SOUTH THEIR HOME.

The Voice of the A. M. E. Conference on the Negro Exodus.

Philadelphia Times.

Before the Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church adjourned yesterday, a report was read from the committee appointed last week to consider the Southern exodus question:

That while we are in sympathy with our brethren of the Southern States whose oppressions still prevail, and intimidations such as have a tendency to deprive them of their constitutional rights, such rights as were won upon the battle-fields during our last civil strife, we, your committee, regret that the services of the black troops for the liberty and preservation of the United States are so soon forgotten, and that our people of the South are compelled to seek refuge from Southern oppression and intimidation in the West. We therefore recommend to the people of the South that, while we do not encourage the exodus of our people from the South, yet we would say that it is their privilege, under the general laws of the United States, to dwell wherever it seems best to them, East, West, North or South. We further recommend that they should not allow themselves to be driven or frightened away from their native soil, but that they should still continue their career of freedom, in reverence to God and obedience to the laws of the government. We further recommend to the colored people of the South that as all their interests, socially, intellectually and religiously, also their customs, habits and political relations, have been inculcated in the South, we therefore advise that they should deliberately and cautiously take into consideration the advantages and disadvantages of either leaving or staying in the South.

It was further the advice of the committee to the Southern people that if in their judgment they could better their condition by leaving, then "leave, in God's name." The report concluded with a demand for protection of the Southern blacks by the General Government.

Rev. John Given, while speaking strongly in favor of the report, said: "Now there is no place in the North or West for the colored man. The only place they had been sent to Congress from was the South, while there was never even a colored Representative in any of the Northern States."

As he said this is a voice cried out: "You're wrong, brother; there was two from down in Massachusetts."

"Was," said Mr. Given, emphatically—and somebody quoted softly, "Oh, the irony of the word"—"Was," repeated Mr. Given, with deeper emphasis, "but we will rot in our graves before we see anything like it there again." The report was unanimously adopted.

Ulysses' Wreath.

Baltimore Gazette.

A Philadelphia jeweler is said to be preparing a magnificent imitation wreath to be used by the Philadelphia admirers of Grant in adorning their hero the moment he steps ashore from San Francisco. It is being constructed on a sort of sliding scale for it is well known that Grant's head varies in size from one to three inches. If he should land in the morning the wreath would have to be let out to the last hole.

A Radical Necessity.

Jersey City Argus.

The Republicans know they cannot carry the Southern states fairly, therefore they are scheming to carry them by force, and so do away with the necessity for the subsequent frauds they were compelled to resort to in 1876. The cry of only a "handful of troops" is merely intended to blind the people to their danger.

A Straw or Two.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Senators Withers and Vance left to-night for Lynchburg, and will talk tobacco at the Fair. It is evident that the feeling here grows daily that Mr. Tilden will be renominated, yet sagacious Democrats concede Mr. Bayard's great strength, and admit that if nominated he could carry New York, Connecticut, and New Jersey. Mr. Thurman's friends grow more clamorous in their determination that he shall run for Governor of Ohio.

If I Could Shin up a Tree.

Washington Post.

"What I would aspire to, in case public opinion should decide to make me a candidate for President," announces Secretary John Sherman. And the violence of the hypothesis is suggestive of the remark of the shad, in the fable, who said "how I would astonish all the people if I could shin up a tree tail foremost."

Revenue Raid.

Oxford Torchlight.

Col. Kellogg, Special Agent, F. M. Sorrell, Deputy at Large, Gen. J. C. Gorman, and Major Martin, Special Deputies, with C. M. Rogers and J. W. Betts, Deputy Collectors, made a raid across Barling's Mountain last week and into Person county, near the Five Forks, on Friday, where they captured a still supposed to belong to a Bedford Riggs. They also got two bull dogs, beer, meal, etc.

WASHINGTON CHIT CHAT.

THE SENATE CHAMBER DURING VANCE'S SPEECH.

The Blow on Blaine, Struck Him Like a Nameless Pain—Making Corn Stalk Sugar.

Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The struggle over the Warner silver bill resulted in its passage on Saturday after a weary session of eighteen continuous hours. The Republicans commenced filibustering Friday and kept it up until Saturday morning. During the whole of this severe party fight, when Democrats were needed to vote and not more than a corporal's guard remained, North Carolina members stuck at their post of duty like Romans, answering to their names every time the roll was called. The bill would have passed sooner if it had not been for of Warner on the floor who had the bill in charge.

The Senate did but little work last week, save to pass the legislative appriation bill. That honorable body took a recess from Tuesday until Thursday in order to give the Senators a chance to attend the Baltimore races. Don Cameron had a palace car thoroughly equipped in all its appointments for comfort, ease, enjoyment and exhilaration for the special accommodation of all Senators who wished a free ride, free drink, and free speech.

Last week Senator Vance gave Blaine, Conkling and Chandler that stunned those stalwarts amazingly. Blaine made a tedious tirade in the way of a speech of several hour's length, in his usual impudent and cowardly manner. It was talked around the city Sunday and Monday morning that Vance, of North Carolina, would follow Blaine, This item of news spread like a clerical scandal around one of the Government Departments and everybody's cousin, uncle, aunt, brother, sisters, sweet-hearts and mothers-in-law were around the capitol at an early hour waiting to get in the galleries. Sergeant-at-Arms Bright, a very clever officer, was equal to the occasion, he packed them away regardless of comfort until the human beings in the galleries were almost like sardines in a box. One enthusiastic admirer of Senator Vance, a wealthy Israelite, of New York, who was too late to get in, offered twenty-five dollars to any one who would allow him the use of their seat to hear Vance speak. He said he heard his famous lecture on the "Scattered Nation" once and ever since he has had such admiration for him that he never will allow an opportunity to pass without hearing him speak. At Blaine's conclusion a stillness passed over the Senate chamber like the hush of death for a few seconds, necks were craned and all eyes were on the distinguished son of North Carolina, who was to reply to Blaine. He rose gracefully from his seat and in a most courtly manner addressed the President, and then proceeded with his argument. He took a new shoot from most of the other Senators who have spoken on the subject. His ideas were original and well expressed. At times his flights of eloquence were grand, sublime and beautiful, and then again his rich wit and humor would cause many smiles to play over the faces of those in the galleries, as well as the grave and dignified Senat ors.

HIS BLOW ON BLAINE

struck him like a nameless pain between the eyes, which so bemuddled his brain that he never rallied during the remainder of Vance's speech.

The scene of North Carolina's favorite son's maiden speech in the United States Senate will long be remembered by the many delighted auditors who had the pleasure of hearing him. It was full of sound reasoning backed by stubborn facts and should be read by everybody, North and South, who feels an interest in the peace and quiet of the country and free liberty at the ballot box. At his conclusion Senators almost en masse gathered around to congratulate him on his first and successful effort in the Senate. His friends were highly delighted, while the opposition were not in a very good mood.

THE PRESIDENTIAL OUTLOOK

for next year is beginning to loom up in the distance with some meaning; both parties are making moves on the political chess board, with an eye to the coming contest. The Grant fever has somewhat abated, while the feeling for John Sherman is daily increasing. There is now a strong movement being worked up in the northwest in favor of the present Secretary of War, McCrary. It is claimed by his friends that by the time the nominating convention meets he will be the strongest man in the party. At this time Sherman seems to be the coming man of the Republican party for the nomination. Ohio politicians say that if he will run for Governor of that State he can beat Thurman or any other man that may be pitted against him. On the Democratic side the friends of Tilden, Thurman, Bayard, and Hendricks, are busy mapping out the chances of each of these prominent politicians. It seems there are good grounds to suspect that Tilden has been making overtures to the Southern Press for his support next year.

The slanderous attack of the Courier-Journal on Mr. Hendricks, should be denounced by every Democrat who ever expects to cast a vote or enjoy the privileges of thinking with the party, as false as the foul spirit that originated it. The Hoosier State can well boast of another son who could grace the presidential chair with honor and distinction; the individual referred to is Senator J. A. McDonald. He is an able lawyer and statesman, and one of the sharpest and most sagacious politicians in the party. We have often noticed opinions advanced by him, as always being to the point, and thoroughly practical in all their bearings.

We dropped in at the seed and flower department of the Government yesterday to gather what was stirring in that quarter. The official we cornered for an interview was Prof. Collier, the chief chemist, whom we found as busy as a bee in the laboratory, making scientific experiments. From him we gained much valuable information about the experiments made during the year by him. How did from the common corn stalk succeed? "I will show the result." He handed us an open mouth bottle, containing something that looked very much like Havemeyer's No. 3 sugar; we tasted and exclaimed this is the sugar, is it? Yes, said the Professor, but here is a better article made from the same stalk How does this compare in point of cost with the Chinese sugar cane? To procure this result you have to use more material to gain the same, as the ordinary corn does not contain as much saccharine matter as the other. We left him, thinking what a glorious thing it would be for every farmer to use his corn-stalks for making sugar instead of allowing them to waste in the fields.

THE TRIAL OF SUGAR-MAKING

We next tackled Mr. John L. Bailey, one of the principal clerks, who manages the seed-division of this vast establishment. He kindly took us through the packing and shipping room of his department, where we found numbers of men at work getting the seed ready to ship to all sections of the country. Mr. Bailey is a native of North Carolina, and we have met in any of the departments; he is thoroughly systematic and accurate in his business relations and enjoys the full confidence of the Commissioner. He is a great favorite among Southern members, because he does his duty in promptly attending to their orders for seed. He was recently offered a first-class consulship by the President but de clined, preferring to remain where he is.

Mr. Le Duc has been the worst abused man in the government, because people and NEWSPAPER MEN NEVER UNDERSTOOD HIM.

He is cold and blunt in his disposition, which at times amounts to rudeness. But after all when everything is taken into consideration many allowances should be made and charity extended to him. There is a great prejudice against the Department from various causes and the principal one because he could not heal all the old sores which had been made by his predecessor, he has been blamed wrongfully and abused for much that he never was guilty of. His department is managed seemingly to us with care and economy.

THE STORM IN GRANVILLE.

An Immense Rain Storm That Swept Everything Before It.

Oxford Torchlight.

Friday, the 16th, ushered in the most destructive rain-storm that has ever visited the eastern section of Brassfields Township. Cloud sequented cloud until about 3 p. m., when it seemed like the flood gates were opened. The face of the earth both hill and dale, were one sheet of water. Middle Creek, about one mile from its source, was boiling, foaming, roaring, and surging with a fury that swept everything in its course. As it swept through W. J. Champion's field its waters were surcharged with tons of soil, hundreds of trees and logs, and thousands of fence-rails, and by the time it reached J. R. Ball's, its force was quadrupled and its work of destruction was an easy task. Ben and George Mortons' cross was swept entirely away, and as it reached J. K. Polk Wright it was angry enough to delete his cross and shoot his fence-rails miles below without an additional ripple. In his field there was a place where fodder had been stacked biennially for forty years, and no water had ever been up to it, but this time it reached half way to the top of the fodderstack and carried off nearly all the fodder. In its heedless rush to Tar River it tore away Dr. W. W. Green's milldam, and floated timbers from his saw-mill yard; thence to C. H. Standling and Harry Kearney's it went with increasing power mitigating none in its ruinous work, and when its heterogeneous load of thousands of trees, millions of fence-rails, and dozens of fodder and oatstacks forced their way through its mouth, into the Tar, it struck with a thunder sound appalling to hear. Fort Creek carried on a similar work of destruction to the farms of S. E. Dement, James Mitchell, the Messrs. Peace, J. Y. and L. H. Moss, and L. B. Allen. L. H. Moss' lowgrounds are ruined for all time, the entire soil being carried away and hundreds of holes washed out, in many of which Brassfields church or any like sized house might be easily buried. Smith Creek began its work with the destruction of Robert Jones' farm, and completed its individual mission at Neuse River. Cedar Creek now has scores of sorrowful farmers viewing the ruins it wrought. S. D. Jenkins, Norman Long and Thomas W. Bragg are among the sufferers. We learn that in Wake the storm was equally severe, carrying away Henry Wilson's tanyard and a ten acre lot of cotton for John Woodliff, which was on high land. We learn that Mr. J. Wesley Michell's "dixie," which has a body about fourteen inches deep, took the rain. When the first cloud passed Mr. Mitchell went to it and the body was running over with water. He bored a hole in the bottom and let the water out, and in five minutes another was pouring out its waters. When it ceased the body was full again, the trash in the bottom havstopped the hole. This makes a fall of twenty-eight inches, and we don't know how much more. The damages of this flood cannot be estimated.

The Judge's Insight.

You will perhaps be surprised when I tell you that the ablest lawyer of this city or any other bar, when he is for the first time appointed a judge, has to learn his trade, as much as the mechanic's apprentice. Of course, I do not mean by this that he has to learn the law, for I am supposing him to be learned in the law. But what the apprenticed mechanic learns of his master is not the science of mechanical forces, at least mainly that. What he does acquire in that apprenticeship is skill in the use of his tools. This is precisely what I am saying of a new judge. Let me illustrate this from my own experience, for it is closely related to training in a lawyer. It is in fact the same thing. I am very sure that it does not take me half the time now that it did at first to eliminate from a complex case presented to me for decision what is irrelevant or immaterial, and to ascertain the point of conflict necessary to be decided. And this is equally true whether the contest be one of law or of fact, or both. By practice and attention I can listen to a lawyer, read a document offered in evidence, pass with him lightly over the formal parts of the instrument, and when he comes to the vital matter, the few words, perhaps, which alone touch the issue, I catch their precise meaning, and if I do not get that clearly I stop him there until I do. It is rare that I need go over that instrument again. So I have acquired, I hardly know how, except by practice—by training—the faculty of taking an immense record of 500 or 1,000 pages, and turning at once to the material parts, whether of pleading, of evidence, or whatever it may be, and in one-third the time it took me when I first went on the bench, I gather the materials for my judgment, without digesting a mass of useless chaff. So of briefs of counsel. A judge who for the first time has presented to him in an important case one of those things, called by way of joke, I suppose, a brief of 100 or 200 pages, with citations of authorities under twenty heads, taken indiscriminately from a digest, would be appalled. But the practiced judge soon gets the ear-mark by which he recognizes the cases which are in point, and those which are not, and gives his earnest attention to the former.—Judge Miller's Address before the Iowa Bar.

Why Wheeler is Nervous.

New York Star.

Mr. Wheeler, the alleged Vice-President of the United States, will not return to Washington until next December, owing, it is said, to his extreme nervousness. Those who believe that Mr. Wheeler possesses a conscience are of the opinion that the nervousness was brought on by remorse.

Y. M. C. CONVENTION.

A CIRCULAR FROM THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

A State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association to be Held at Salisbury.

OFFICE OF STATE EX. COMMITTEE,
CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 22, 1879.

The third annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association o North Carolina will assemble in Salisbury, Thursday evening, June 26th, and continue in session Friday and Saturday, closing with special religious services on the Sabbath following.

Two years ago, in this city, a little band joined in the exercises of our first annual gathering. We were few in number, but came together in harmonious council, believing that the future would witness the rapid development of our organization and that our efforts would be blessed. After the lapse of a year, our second convention was held in Greensboro where our most sanguine expectations were seen to have been fulfilled. Fourteen associations were represented by nearly two scores of earnest, enthusiastic young men. Our meeting together on that occasion was delightful in the extreme, and an impel tus was given to the work, the fullscope of which cannot be definitely ascertained until the reassembling of our association in convention at Salisbury.

Each regularly constituted association will be allowed four delegates, but associations who are not members of an Evangelical church, are excluded by an article in the constitution of the State Association, from representation in the convention.

Any representative man from a community where there is no formal organization will be received and accredited as a delegate on presentation of a certificate from his pastor, stating that he is a member in good and regular standing, of some Evangelical church. We earnestly desire that every association in the State shall send at least one delegate. Let us come together, brethren, earnestly desiring to promote the welfare of young men, and with ardent zeal for the honor of the Master, and His blessings will surely crown our efforts. Our Salisbury brethren have extended to us a cordial invitation, and delegates will receive a generous welcome to the hospitalities of that city.

We will make application to the railroad authorities in the State for special rates and information concerning the same will be given by the secretary, as soon as arrangements are made.

We trust the various associations will elect delegates at once and notify the Secretary, T. M. Pittman, Charlotte, N. C., that the committee of arrangements at Salisbury may provide for their entertainment.

A full programme of the convention, announcing the order of exercises, subjects for discussion, etc., will be sent out in a few days. Several distinguished speakers will be invited to be present and address the convention.

Fraternally,

I. H. FOUST, Chairman.

Winston Sentinel.

There is talk of organizing an artillery company at this place. Adjutant-General Jones says the guns will be forthcoming as soon as the company is organized.

In a letter from Governor Vance, received this week, he says the great uncertainty as to what time Congress will adjourn prevents him from positively accepting the invitation to be present at the Confederate Survivors' Reunion, on the 3d and 4th of July, at this place. He wants to come, and, if possible, will be here.

The steam mill at Winston, owned by a company of which Pat Taylor was the largest shareholder, was destroyed by fire recently—value $8,000. No insurance.—Central Protestant. Pat Taylor is not a shareholder in any steam mill in Winston, and no steam mill has been burned up in Winston, and since we come to think about it there is no steam mill in Winston, besides there is no such a man as Pat Taylor.

The mail from Salem to Danbury never reached the latter place last Saturday, neither did the mail leave Danbury for Salem that day. The carrier on that end of the route says that the horse furnished him is entirely broken down, and that the contractor has also failed to furnish feed for the animal; therefore his inability to carry the mails. That is an important route, making connection with various other routes, and it is hoped that the delivery of the mails will be regular hereafter.

Many of the old field strawberry venders carry their berries from ten to twelve miles to this market.

The old fish-pole vender earns the dimes he makes. He cut his poles on the Uwharrie, in Randolph county, forty miles from here, and trudges along on foot with as many as he can carry. About twenty make a load for him and these he sells for ten cents a piece.

Nicholas Jennings, Jr., white, and Thomas Wakefield, Indian half-breed, who stole John Matthew's horse a short while ago, were captured in Pulaski county, Virginia, and delivered to Mr. David Scott on a requisition from the Governor. They arrived last night and were lodged in jail. They served a term heretofore in the penitentiary of one of the Western States.

Wayne.

Goldsboro Messenger.

Mr. H. T. Jones, an energetic young farmer living near this town, sold over 2,000 quarts of strawberries off less than one acre.

Mrs. Moon did not preach at the Methodist Church Monday night. The inclement state of the weather prevented it. She left Tuesday morning for Tarboro.

We learn that Mr. Frank Casey, residing on Bay river in Pamlico county, owns a young heifer, three years old, and of under-size, that is quite a curiosity. She has ram-shaped horns, six inches long on each of her front hoofs; the tail is bunchy like that of a sheep; the hair on the body is also decidedly woolly and has very much the appearance of a sheep. The head is that of a cow but the horns are short. The mother was a two-year-old heifer.

The strawberry season has closed, so far as shipping North is concerned. While the shipments were not altogether as heavy as they have been in previous seasons, we are nevertheless glad to learn that our shippers are satisfied with their returns. The aggregate shipment from Goldsboro will reach 65,000 quarts. To give a better idea of the extent of this branch of industry, it will be interesting to know that the Express office in this place forwarded in all 1,868 crates of berries to the cities of Philadelphia, New York and Boston during the period from May 2d to May 26th, and this does not include shipments to Washington, Richmond and elsewhere. The largest shipment was made May 20th, being 156 crates, mostly of 45 quarts each.

Beaufort.

Washington Press.

We learn from a party over in Martin county that a frost visited that section on Thursday and Friday night of last week, and worked havoc with the cotton crop in that region. It was rather a cool snap over there, but we have as yet heard of no damage being done, and trust that it did not do as much damage to our neighbors as feared.

We notice that our town authorities are doing a good act in the whitewashing of all the shade trees of the town, which not only will add to the looks but a fair impression will be made as to the cleanliness and health of our place. Let all take warning and use freely whitewash and lime on their premises, and pestilence and plagues will be sure to pass us by.

We find upon examination that about 1,000 boxes of fish were shipped from this place during the spring shipment, averaging say $20 per box, which we suppose is a low estimate, we have the snug little sum of $20,000 brought about alone by the fish trade. If could be added a good truck traffic the benefit to our town and section would be very perceptible. We offer many advantages for an early trade in that line. Let some of our farmers who have the suitable lands and also the means, try the experiment. We are satisfied it will pay handsomely.

A JEALOUS HUSBAND'S FATE.

Killed by a Shot From His Own Pistol—A Singular Tragedy.

Waynesville dispatch May 23d, Cincinnati Gazette.

There was a terrible tragedy on the bluffs above Corwin, a mile from here, this morning, in which Captain W. R. Hoel, of the United States beacon light steamer, Lily, killed himself and seriously wounded Dr. J. B. Hough, a prominent physician here. The cause was the jealousy of Hoel in regard to his wife, whom he accused of being unfaithful to him.

Last night he pretended to go to Cincinnati, but hid himself in the house. This morning Dr. Hough visited the house, and according to the testimony of a colored servant at the inquest, was seated in the parlor with Mrs. Hoel on his lap, when Hoel entered and called him a d—d villain and fired, missing his mark. He then snapped two caps, the pistol, a huge navy revolver, failing to go off. He then took the pistol by the barrel and commenced beating Hough over the head and face. During the pounding the pistol went off, accidentally shooting Hoel himself in the left breast, the ball passing and instantly killing him.

Hough is resting easy to-night, and will probably recover. Dr. Hough claims that Hoel was mistaken in regard to the position of his wife.

Mr. S. Hunt, brother of Mrs. Hoel, claims that Hoel was unreasonably jealous, and that he would lock up the house when he went away. He burned his wife's music, and threatened to kill him (Hunt) some three years ago. Hunt to-night positively refuses to allow any one to see Mrs. Hoel.

At the inquest to-day, Wooderman, a hired man, testified that Dr. Hough has been to see Mrs. Hoel ten or fifteen times recently, remaining five or six hours at a time. She has never been confined to her bed during these visits. The doctor passed from a tenant's house, when the colored girl called him in, saying she was sick. Eleanor Allen, the colored servant, testified that Hoel came into the dining room at a quarter of nine o'clock, and passed to the bed room. He told her to look through the holes in the door of the dining room. She then saw Mrs. Hoel and saw her kiss Hough. Hoel opened the door, and shot, when Mrs. Hoel rushed from the room. Hoel then tried to shoot again, but failed. He then began beating Hough with the butt of the pistol, during which the pistol went off and sent a ball through Hoel's own heart.

Mrs. Hoel testified that she was in the parlor talking to the doctor, when her husband came in. She knew that he was angry, and she left the room. She did not see the shooting. She knew of no cause for the jealousy. Dr. Hough, in a statement to the Gazette reporter to-night, said that Mrs. Hoel was in the room when the shooting occurred, but denies any improper intimacy between himself and Mrs. Hoel.

The men are well known, both in this place and in Cincinnati. Captain Hoel is the hero who ran his boat past Vicksburg in the siege of that place during the war. Dr. Hough was formerly professor of chemistry in the Miama medical college at Cincinnati, but is now a practicing physician of Waynesville. Captain Hotel was a man in easy circumstances, and was living in good style on a farm one mile from Waynesville.

The Public Printing.

The House Printing Committee has held a secret session and decided upon its present course with reference to the bills proposing reform in the Government Printing office, before it. The bill offered by Hon. J. Proctor Knott was laid aside for future consideration by the committee. The measure known as the Hackman bill, which was passed by the XXXIXth Congress, as House bill No. 1099 was then taken up. After discussion, it was decided by a vote of two to one to report this back favorably with the amendments agreed on—two in number. It provided that the Senate should elect some competent person, who should be a practical printer, to take charge of and manage the Government printing office, that the person so elected should be deemed an officer of the Senate, and be designated "Congressional Printer." He was to superintend the printing and binding of the Journal, and such other documents as should be ordered by each house of Congress, and superintend the execution of all the printing and binding for the respective departments of the Government required by law to be executed at the Government printing office, and be governed by the laws in force in relation to the superintendent of public printing and the execution of the printing and binding. It also provides that the salary of the officer shall be $4,000 a year. This was voted for by John Sherman in the Senate and Rutherford B. Hayes in the House, and passed by a vote of ninety-nine to thirty-eight in the latter house.

An amendment made by the Printing Committee contemplates closing up one of the greatest causes of complaint and leakage, in that the Government has never known the extent of its property in this department. It has been left to Defrees to make sales, purchases and reports as he felt disposed. A bond of $100,000 by the Congressional printer, to be given after an inventory is taken on July 1st. The latter is to be done annually. A half-yearly report, made on oath, of all purchases, sales and work done, is also to be made to Congress. While this action of the committee lays the Knott bill temporarily on the table, the opinion was expressed in the committee that it would yet be taken up and favorably reported when it shall have been demonstrated that the Hackman bill is impracticable.

MILTON S. LITTLEFIELD.

JUSTICE IN SWIFT PURSUIT OVERTAKES THE FUGITIVE.

He is Arrested in Florida Upon a Requisition from Gov. Jarvis—Officers Dispatched for Him.

No little excitement was created on our streets day before yesterday afternoon by a rumor which obtained currency that the celebrated lobbyist, legislature buyer and "stock jobber," General Milton S. Littlefield, had been, in obedience to a requisition of Governor Jarvis on Governor Drew, of Florida, arrested in that State, and would in a few days be brought as a prisoner back to the scenes of his brilliant and magnificent career as a wealthy lobbyist, high liver and unstinted spendthrift. The excitement continued all through yesterday and many street corner caucuses assembled and discussed the matter during the day.

Those whose official positions gave them peeps behind the scenes were very reticent and the most adroit pumping by the reportorial fraternity failed to get from the oyster like officers any tangible information, but by persistent effort we think we are able to present this morning a fair and tolerably accurate statement of the case.

Last fall a joint indictment was found against George W. Swepson and Milton S. Littlefield for swindling the State out of many millions of dollars in bonds which had been voted by the legislature to aid in the building of the Western North Carolina railroad.

It is alleged in the indictment that Littlefield and Swepson, who were officers of the road had, by misrepresentation, obtained possession of these bonds, and instead of applying them according to law had negotiated them and divided the proceeds. Our readers are familiar with the recent history of this case.

Milton S. Littlefield has been "wanted" in this State for several years, and Governors Caldwell, Brogden and Vance have made ineffectual attempts to get him here, but since this indictment has been standing against him he has been in greater demand.

Governor Vance tried to capture him last winter, but the wiry little legislature-corrupter was too smart and sly for him. Governor Jarvis not long since renewed his application to Governor Drew, of Florida, for the mighty Milton, and a week or ten days ago was notified by Governor Drew that "his man" was in New York City. Our Governor immediately dispatched two trusty secret agents to that city, but on their arrival there they ascertained that he had returned to the orange groves of the flowery kingdom.

Governor Jarvis having been informed by wire of the state of affairs, at once telegraphed Governor Drew, of Florida, to arrest and hold Littlefield. The Governor of Florida in a day or two telegraphed, saying: "Your man has been arrested in Jacksonville, and awaits your wishes." Chief of Police J. W. Lee and Mr. Mitchell were immediately armed and equipped with the necessary papers and dispatched to Florida to bring the General back to the scenes of his palmy days.

Capt. Lee arrived in Jacksonville yesterday and found the General in jail. It was the intention of Captain Lee to return at once, and he expected to land the General in Wake county jail by Saturday night, but late last night a telegram was received saying a writ of habeas corpus had been sued out which would cause some delay, if nothing worse. Exactly what General Littlefield is wanted for is not known outside of official circles. One rumor says he is to be tried on the charge in the indictment; another says he is to be used as a State's witness against G. W. Swepson, and still another says his evidence is wanted in the pending suits of North Carolina against certain Florida railroads, and that said evidence, if it can be gotten out of him, is worth several millions to the State, but the Governor says he will be brought to speedy trial on the indictment in Wake Superior Court. However this may be it is quite certain that Littlefield's arrest and Governor Jarvis' perseverance in the matter has created no little alarm in certain circles hereabout, and there is an undercurrent of anxiety and uneasiness that will probably be noticeable until something definite is done, or until it is ascertained that General Littlefield will remain as dumb as the aforesaid bivalve.

It is rumored that Mr. R. C. Badger has been dispatched by some one to Florida to advise with or defend Littlefield.

The following are the telegrams received yesterday by the Governor:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 29, 2:31 p. m.—Arrived here and arrested Littlefield; have him in jail; he is trying to get a writ of habeas corpus; must I employ counsel?

(Signed.) J. W. LEE.

To the above the Governor telegraphed simply "yes."

The following was received at 5 p.m.:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 29, 5 p. m.—Is the bill of indictment published in the Observer, a true copy from the Criminal Court, November term, 1878? Answer immediately.

(Signed.) J. W. LEE.

To which Governor Jarvis replied, "It is."

The following contains the last information from Florida:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 29, 5 p. m.—He has sued out a writ of habeas corpus. Will try it at 5 o'clock.

(Signed.) J. W. LEE.

A Relic of the War.

West Virginian.

We have in our possession a small pocket Testament which was found upon the person of a dead Confederate soldier, killed at Cedar Creek at the great battle tought there on the 22d day of September, 1864. It was taken from the inside breast pocket of the dead man's coat by Mr. Edward G. Eaglen, of Palatine, who was than a member of Company C, 14th Regiment of West Virginia Infantry, and handed us last Monday. On one fly leaf of the Testament is the following inscription:

Alpha Cook, Company A, 21st Regiment, N. C., Hoke's, Brigade, Early's Division.

Mr. Eaglen informed us that the soldier had been struck by a bullet, which entered his body about an inch above where the book rested, and the blood, as it flowed from the death wound, ran down and colored its pages, and they yet plainly bear the dark stain of the life fluid that coursed through the veins of "somebody's darling." It may be that a mother, a sister, a wife or a sweetheart yet weeps for the unreturning brave, who sleeps where he fell—on the battle field of Cedar Creek.

HUSSEY & JORDAN, PROPRIETORS

JOHN B. HUSSEY, - - Editor.

THE OHIO NOMINATION.

The "cut and dried" affair at Cincinnati known as the Ohio Republican Convention met on Wednesday, and after an extremely short session put forth the name of Charles Foster as a candidate for the Governorship of that State, he having been nominated on the first ballot, by a plurality of ten over Taft.

The closeness of this vote would indicate that there is no such harmony in the Republican ranks as their organs have stated. Mr. Foster was Secretary Sherman's candidate, and certainly on the score of past services can lay no strong distinctive claim for reward at the hands of the party. Indeed, ever since his name has been mentioned in connection with the Governorship, he has been opposed by a large and influential portion of the Radical party, inasmuch as he had not closely held to its tenets, but on the contrary had been influenced by the wayward courses of Mr. Hayes, when the latter was evidently trying to carry out his reconciliation policy in good faith. But time and office-craze work great changes, and evidently Mr. Foster, who as yet has not declared the fact, has experienced this change, otherwise he would not have received John Sherman's indorsement.

The nomination of Mr. Taft meant Grant, and (Mr. Sherman's declaration that he would step down and out if General Grant was nominated to the contrary notwithstanding) the amount of strength he showed in the Convention clearly tells the story that Sherman is not to have a walk over in the race for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Mr. Foster was put forward on the score of expediency. The Republican leaders have advanced no new idea when they state that it is essential for their success they should carry Ohio. The Democrats can easily get along in the Electoral College without that State but the Republicans cannot. Therefore they see that if Ohio goes Democratic this fall they cannot with any degree of certainty count on Ohio for a Republican majority in 1880. Mr. Foster, to a certain degree, is popular outside of his party. The crimson shirt had to be toned to a light pink before he would consent to wear it, and on this account it was supposed that he would be acceptable to the "war Democrats," provided a strong sectional feeling could be aroused through the efforts of the majority in Congress to abolish the odious election and jury laws. Indeed, Secretary Sherman enunciated this idea in his letter of declination, and made an appeal to the "war Democrats and "soldiers in the service who have been "influenced by political events since "the war to withhold support from the "Republican party," to break their former party affiliations and come within the hallowed precincts of the Republican temple of liberty; to dissever their connection with the "rebellious "majority in Congress whose outrageous course was sufficient to excite "alarm."

This appeal will doubtless prove fruitless. The Convention has put down no new plank that will command general admiration. The platform is the same that has been put forward by every convention for the past twelve years, only altered to refer to the legislation of the Democratic Congress (so termed). It carries no weight abroad, and Mr. Sherman's letter, which furnishes the text of the new resolutions is severely criticised in an article taken from that able Republican paper, the Springfield Republican, and which we print in another column.

With these facts before us we can see no good grounds for giving up Ohio to the Republicans this fall.

ANY day in the past two weeks proceedings under a writ de lunatico inquirendo would have landed Congressman Warner, the father of the silver bill which passed the House Saturday, in a lunatic asylum for his mismanagement of the bill. He has escaped by the skin of his teeth to tell a National View reporter the effects of his bill in Ohio. The interviewer and the interviewed said:

The View—Mr. Warner, what effect will your silver bill have on the approaching canvass in Ohio?

Mr. Warner—It will give the Democratic party 20,000 majority in the State. It will do more for our success than any other issue that can be brought forward. The people of the State, ten to one, are in favor of the measure.

The View—How will the Greenbackers receive it, and will it be an inducement to them to vote the Democratic ticket?

Mr. Warner—The Nationals, Greenbackers, and laboring men are all in favor of the measure, so far as Ohio is concerned. Their leading men and their newspapers indorse it.

The View—Will the adoption of such a measure contribute to the coalition of the Greenbackers and Democrats in the coming conventions?

Mr. Warner—It will be the most potent means of uniting these two conventions, as its principles can be placed upon the united platform, and thereby secure the nomination of one ticket; and all John Sherman's money cannot carry the State of Ohio. We will sweep the political field with a whirlwind of popular approval that will astonish the money powers and their monarchical sustainers. Sherman's sophistric cannot gull the people of Ohio against these facts.

THE investigation into John Davenport's conduct as Federal supervisor of elections last fall, now in progress before District Judge Lyman, in New York, has brought out some facts and statements which show the need, not at all for repeal, but for change and amendment in the Federal election laws. Practically, the arrest of a man on election day disfranchises him. Plainly such an arrest ought not to be made on any but the clearest reasons. In Illinois the constitution, and in some States the laws, protect a man from arrest by civil process on election day while going to or returning from the polls. This is only an illustration of the pains which American law takes in general to shield a citizen in the exercise of this right. The inquiry before Judge Lyman, however, shows that arrests were made by deputy marshals election day on warrants to which Davenport had not even affixed a jurat. Many arrests were made on warrants sworn to in a bunch, and when these things were proved Davenport declared that the law did not even require him to have a written complaint in order to issue a warrant. As every such warrant may disfranchise a man for one very important day, it is plain that the law ought to be promptly amended to prevent its issue except on clear proof.

THE development of the manurial resources of South Carolina in the shape of the deposits of phosphate of lime in the alluvial portions of that State is attracting increased attention. These phosphates are easy to handle, being free from rock and near the surface, and when treated with sulphuric acid it yields a superior quality of soluble phosphoric acid, a principal ingredient in the straw and grain of all our leading crops. These phosphates in their crude state afford the phosphoric acid for sixty per cent. of all our American manufactured fertilizers. Last year South Carolina shipped 210,823 tons of crude phosphate, against 123,790 tons in 1875. The State also shipped 52,000 tons of manufactured phosphates and fertilizers.

North Carolina has equally rich beds of marl, and a proper development of them would add material wealth to the State as well as keep hundreds of thousands of dollars within its confines that are now being sent abroad.

THE New York Financial Chronicle takes the ground that there are a very few trade dollars now in existence in China of the $28,000 imported, most of them having been first "chopped," marked with the initials of Chinese bankers, and at a later date melted down into small bars, or sycee silver, a form in which this metal largely circulates in China. If true, this would make it safe for the government to relieve the country of the nuisance of two dollars by redeeming the trade dollar. If, as the Chronicle says, the market price of a trade dollar in China is 76 cents, its statement is probably true. It costs from 1 to 2 per cent. to bring trade dollars from China to New York, and at their present price in New York, 98 cents, a handsome profit could be made on their importation, which would certainly follow if a large number were in China.

War Democrats in 1880.

Springfield Republican (Rep).

The trouble with Secretary Sherman's letter to a "war Democrat" is that he forgets that about all Democrats were "war" on one side or the other, and that neither kind now sees any crisis in national affairs which should draw him over to the administration or Republican party. If Mr. Sherman's Democrats are to be identified as "war" Democrats other Democrats, we suppose, will be copperheads. "National supremacy in national matters" might be a good campaign cry addressed to the country, but it has a pretty stalwart ring when addressed only to those who "contributed in any way" to support the Union fifteen years ago. Why not address it to everybody? The Union men of 1861 do not constitute a superior caste of citizenship in 1879. Their services were patriotic, grand and can never be too highly estimated, but they constitute no privileged rank, to-day, in political weight, else they would have fought in vain. Time, too, has removed thousands of them from active life. Half a generation has gone by, and half the voters in 1880 will have had no voice or arm in the events of 1861-65; why perpetuate in politics a distiction, which can no longer be a basis of political action, unless prejudice, sectional distrust and hatred are to be its mainsprings?

Mr. Sherman says that he would "lean greatly upon the war Democrats and soldiers in the service who have been influenced by political events since the war to withhold support from the Republican party." What is it that has influenced these "war Democrats and soldiers" to "withhold support from the Republican party?" What are "the political events" which have had this effect, and what different policy does Mr. Sherman propose instead?" All he says is that he would "lean greatly." Presidential candidates "lean" on those who will elect them, as small boys go out for birds with a pinch of salt, but what it means after a candidate is in office and at the head of an administration nobody can tell.

No man will be likely to succeed in 1880 who based his candidature on the relation of parties in 1860. This generation wants a later issue. Millions of wealth have been showered upon the country and swept away in the interval; American commerce has ceased to exist; the tariff strangles rather than protects; rebel brigadiers and Union brigadiers sit in Congress on equal terms; politicians may shriek of revolution, and old women of communism, but the Rothschilds and the common people alike scramble eagerly for the government promises to pay 4 per cent. interest. Does this look as if one need to "lean greatly on war Democrats and soldiers" to save the "national supremacy," or is this an advance sheet of the clap-trap platform with which a party without issues may hope to weather another campaign?

Reconstruction Firmly Established.

Charleston (S. C.) News.

There is nothing improbable in the supposition that ultimately the reconstruction acts will be declared unconstitutional. This will not affect the results of the reconstruction acts one way or another. The working of these acts is embodied in the organic laws of the States, and these will not be made or declared void, whatever the action of the Supreme Court. Public opinion in the South will not sanction any movement looking to any such revolution as that of remitting the States to the position they held in 1866, and annulling and unsettling the judicial decisions and the legislation of more than ten years. What changes are required can be made by the processes provided by the organic law, without any procedure that smacks of violence or revolution. This is the Southern doctrine, and it is the more important that it should be known, because it is to the interest of the Republican party and of Republican organs to misrepresent the South and place the Southern people in a false position before the world. For the South and with the South, peace is empire, and empire is peace!

Advice to be Heeded.

New York Sun.

Democrats in Congress! You are about to make your record on a question at once momentous and enduring; are you in favor of granting to the President authority to have any part of the army and navy present at elections for any other purpose than to dispel armed enemies of the United States?

The record you make will be your own.

It will stand.

Your constituents and your country will judge you by that record.

The best cause may be lost by the cowardice of its leaders. A party, like an individual, void of courage, deserves to die.

CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE

Rev Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The words of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Baltimore Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. Col., Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent Colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Cont.

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed. Myself, in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.

This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester,

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

ROMANCES.

Very few New Yorkers will not pay over $200 cash for an old saucer broken by some careless servant directly after the flood. There's but little choice between old saucers.

Eloquent barber: "How'll you have your hair cut, sir?" Accommodating customer: "Oh,' most any way. Only, if you decide to talk it off, leave the skin on, at any rate."—Puck.

An editor has one advantage over a king, says the Norristown Herald man. When an editor goes out riding in his open barouche, drawn by four milk-white steeds, he is never shot at by a Socialist. You have probably remarked this yourself.

Missionaries in South Africa are engaged in an attempt to prove that the Zulus are lineal descendants of the lost tribes of Israel. Just at present the lost tribe of England is being scattered promiscuously over the same region.—Chicago Journal.

There is no authentic photograph of Medusa on file that we know of, but it is generally understood that the expression of her countenance was that of a man who has just gone into the cupboard in the dark, groped along the shelf for the old flat bottle with the broken cork, collared the wrong one and swallowed about three ounces of rheumatism liniment before he found it out.—Hawkeye.

One of the earliest female archery clubs we read about was when Ruth was out in the field with her Boas and harrows. Wasn't? How d'ye know there wasn't? Hey? Didn't? Why not? That is where you don't know anything about it. World was just full of harrows in those days. No harrows, indeed. Man can't make an ancient joke about anything any more, without having some historical idiot come sneaking along and tell him that the accessories of his joke didn't come along until the world was five or six thousand years older than the date of his joke. We do hate precise people.—Hawkeye.

Dr. Talmage's Foreign Trip.

Brooklyn Eagle, 28th.

Great preparations are being made by the Tabernacle people for the excursion down the bay to-morrow, on the occasion of the departure of Dr. Talmage for Europe. The steamer Grand Republic will leave Jewell's wharf at 9 a. m., punctually, for the Cunard wharf, Pier No. 40, North River, whence Mr. Talmage and part of his family will sail at 10 o'clock in the Gallia for Liverpool. As the Cunard steamships do not stop in the lower bay to allow passengers to embark and disembark, Mr. Talmage will be on the Grand Republic until it reaches Pier 40. The Grand Republic will accompany the Gallia as far as Sandy Hook, and returning will touch at Pier 1, North River, to allow those who desire to disembark to do so. This will be about half past 12 o'clock. The excursion steamer will then be headed up the Hudson on a pleasure trip, and return in good season. About one hundred and fifty invitations have been sent to prominent citizens and officials. Mayor Howell has signified his intention of going along. The committee in charge consists of B. R. Corwin, H. A. Tucker, P. W. Taylor, Alden Wattles and S. P. Knight.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, so long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

No greater wrong can be done than to say that Consumption is incurable. GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP will cure it when all other means have failed. Also, Colds, Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Read the testimonials of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, Gov. Smith and Ex-Gov. Brown of Ga., Hon. Geo. BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Diseases, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. PEMBERTON'S SYPHILOMA, or BLOOD DELIGHT is the only medicine upon earth that a hope of recovery from Syphilis or Mercurial diseases is reasonably founded, and the cure Cancer, Tumor, Scrofula, Ulcers, Sores and Skin Diseases is positively guaranteed. $10,000 will be paid to the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it.

By Hon. A. W. Tourgee.

We are happy to announce to the legal profession that this valuable work is now ready for delivery to subscribers. The labor of preparation and the necessity of securing the utmost possible accuracy in the immense number of citations, has necessarily delayed the work, but the result cannot but be satisfactory to every practioner. In form, matter, completeness and style of publication, it is undoubtedly the best law book ever published in the State containing 750 large double-column pages, 5,162 cited cases and about 30,000 citations.

It will be mailed to subscribers on receipt of the price $12 with 25 cents for postage. Or sent by Express C. O. D. when there is an office convenient. Persons desiring to have the work should order at once, as the edition is a limited one.

Wanted

Every Sunday school superintendent in North Carolina to send his address to Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh, for their new catalogue of Sunday school supplies and sample songs from popular Sunday school singing books.

The Public Laws.

The State Printer is now delivering the laws of 1879, and expects to complete the work by the 15th of June. The Secretary of State is not permitted to sell or dispose of a volume until all the copies ordered to be distributed reach their destination, as will be seen from the following from Battle's Revisal, chap. 78, sec. 18: "Whenever any book is published under the direction of the General Assembly and at the cost of the State for distribution, until the whole number of copies required by law to be distributed have been forwarded to their proper destination, the selling of any such books shall be a misdemeanor, and the person so offending, upon conviction, shall pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and each book sold shall constitute a separate and distinct offense."

Another Mandamus.

Yesterday a mandamus was served on Col. W. L. Saunders, Secretary of State, by the State on relation of Thos. S. Kenan, Esq., Attorney General, and J. C. Scarboro, Esq., Superintendent of Public Instruction. The object of the mandamus is to require the Secretary of State to incorporate the school bill (as passed by the last General Assembly) among the laws of 1879. The writ is returnable at the June term of Wake Superior Court on the 12th of June. Messrs. Lewis & Strong and Colonel W. Clark are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Personals.

Hon. J. L. Robinson, President of the Senate is in the city on his way home.

Mr. Leo D. Heartt, the popular and efficient Cashier of the State National Bank, leaves this morning for a week's visit to New Berne, where his family have been sojourning for the past few weeks.

Col. A. J. Young who has been in New York City for the past ten days, for the purpose of consulting the most eminent medical talent of the day, reports in a private letter that he has just undergone a grand operation. It was performed by Dr. Otis, and lasted four days. We are glad to hear the Colonel is rapidly improving and expects to return to this city about the 10th of June.

"Don Vivimus Vivamus."

This was the cabalistic legend that met the gaze on opening a box labeled "American Breakfast Cereals" left at the NEWS office by the enterprising grocers' firm of W. C. & A. B. Stronach. These cereals consist of crushed white wheat, oatmeal, barley and maize, and are highly recommended by the principal hotels in New York, and by the public press. They are all made from the choicest grains, and steamed, cooked and desiccated. They can be prepared for the table in ten minutes, saving time, fuel and waste. The husks, cockle, and all other impurities are removed.

Another Wedding.

Yesterday afternoon another of those pleasant events that have come so thick and fast of late occurred at the Edenton Street Methodist Church, Mr. George T. Foust, formerly of Raleigh, but now of Winston, led Miss Emma, daughter of W. H. Bledsoe, Esq., of this city, to the hymeneal altar, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. S. Black. The church was tastefully decorated, and those present to witness the marriage were attended to by Messrs. William W. Wilson, Charles C. McDonald, Samuel B. Norris and F. B. Arendell, who acted as ushers. The bride and groom were attended by the following named ladies and gentlemen: Miss Mollie Hill and W. N. Bledsoe; Miss Grizzie Bagley and D. C. Bynum; Miss Beckie Murray and N. G. Whitfield; Miss Mattie Partin and N. A. Sneadman; Miss Agnes Fleming and Eugene E. Gray; Miss Beckie Bledsoe and A. A. Smith. After the ceremony the happy pair took the 6 p. m., train for Carthage, the home of Mr. Foust.

A SINGULAR CASE.

A Man Discovered in a Dying Condition---No Traces of Poison.

Mr. J. A. Wellons, of Johnston county, in company with Quent Hamilton, a white man employed by him on his farm, came to this city Monday night, arriving after 10 o'clock. They separated for the night and did not meet again until yesterday morning. Mr. Wellons tried at several places to purchase groceries, but his claims to credit were not satisfactory. He was unsuccessful everywhere he went. Finally after leaving Messrs. Latta & Myatt's store he and Hamilton met, and after a few words together, Wellons said he would come back soon and make arrangements to get some groceries which Latta & Myatt were ordered to put up for him. It appears that he went to the City Hotel kept by Colonel Horton, and after registering he called for a room, saying he felt unwell and would like to lie down awhile before dinner. A room was given him. The Colonel was told to wake him at one o'clock. This he promptly did. The sick man asked for an hour more, saying, this would give him time enough to get home before night. At 2 the Colonel awoke him again. It seemed that a sudden and unaccountable change had come over him. Said the Colonel, "I thought he was tight, and as I could not make him understand me, I left him thinking he would sleep it off." At 3 o'clock Hamilton came and was shown to Wellon's room. He soon came out, saying, "He's sick and about to die." Colonel Horton sent at once for Dr. Sexton, the nearest physician who was absent. Drs. Hines and Little were sent for. Dr. Hines was also absent. Dr. Little came and pronounced the case hopeless. The man was unconscious, and the seal of death seemed set on his livid face. He lingered on. After supper Dr. Jones, Dr. Herbert Haywood and Dr. Hines were sent for and promptly responded. They made diligent inquiry into the history of the case, but could get no clue to the cause of the unnatural condition of the man. Emetics were administered, but no trace of poison could be seen. If poison had ben used it was absorbed in the system. Dr. Haywood injected brandy in his arm, and from that time the deathlike look began to wear off and a more vigorous action of the heart and lungs set in. The doctors were unable to diagnose the case, and the prognosis was uncertain. His heart was beating and his lungs breathing. No evidence of poison was visible. A search was made in the room and out in the yard. The case attracted quite a large crowd around the hotel up to a very late hour last night. The unconscious man was still living up to 2 o'clock this morning.

To be Released.

There will be released from the State Penitentiary on the 30th, Joseph Kelly, white, convicted in New Hanover county, of breaking into a store-house, and sentenced to the penitentiary, August, 1877. He is about 52 years old, 5 feet and 6½ inches high, and weighed when admitted 133 pounds.

Also James Smith, colored, convicted in Granville county, of larceny, and sentenced to the Penitentiary August, 1876. He is about 24 years old, 5 feet, 6 inches high, and weighed when admitted 161 pounds.

Messrs Hutson & Hay.

The many friends of these popular young gentlemen will be glad to learn that they have taken the general agency for the John Hancock Life Insurance Company, of Boston, Mass. Mr. Wm. Hutson comes to settle in this city again, and being a gentleman of much experience and tact as an insurance agent, he will add much to Mr. T. T. Hay's popularity and general efficiency, in the same line. The John Hancock, under the Massachusetts law, is not permitted to issue any but non-forfeitable policies. It is a good Company and will be well sustained, we have no doubt.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Five Cents a Grab.

Yesterday noon, on the corner of Fayetteville street and Exchange Place a peripatetic engineer of a nerve tester and a lung indicator had posted himself for business. His establishment consisted of a go-cart containing a galvanic battery and all the little et ceteras required to get up a lively movement on the concern, and on a stand near by was the lung tester. Everyone knows what these "contraptions" are, as they have have figured at circuses, fairs and horse trots till every darkey in the country has satisfied himself that he can raise two tons by an exceedingly stiff breath. But the battery was a new creation to some, and they couldn't let the "critter" pass without giving it a pull. Five cents a grab, gen'lemen," said the proprietor. "Now's the time to see what you made of." Several "grabbed" and as soon as the shock was felt they wiggled like eels, and only a spirit of emulation induced them to keep hold, but one by one they dropped off as more steam was applied. Pretty soon Charles, about as big a vagabond as can be scared up among our colored population, made his appearance and surveyed the field. He was disgusted with the lack of nerve displayed, and forthwith announced to a delighted audience his ability to "done chaw up dat yar agy machinery." That was enough to set the ball in motion, Charles had no nickels to invest in the enterprise, but that was no obstacle, the lucre was quickly furnished, and he took hold. The first shock was a stiffener: it nearly knocked him out of time; but he hung on, encouraged by the approving shouts of the spectators. More acid was applied and Charles gave an imitation of a Comanche war dance, and this settled him; he had to drop the handles. But the music was not allowed to stop. The crowd bantered him about his brags till he got thoroughly roused and volunteered to "gib dat debbil box anudder yank." Some friend kindly told him to get his hands well dampened—although there was little need of that as the perspiration was pouring out in streams—and helped him brace himself up with about five fingers of stiff juice, and he went in for the final struggle. The battery was charged to its full capacity, and so was Charles, but corn whisky isn't quite so heavy as sulphuric acid. He took the handles—did you ever see a jumping jack trying to turn a handspring and a double summersault at the same time? —well, that was about Charles' style. He couldn't stand up or sit down, and, worse than all, he couldn't let go; his feet flew in all directions—an enterprising mule was no circumstance. He yelled for mercy. "Yo' done shet off dat yar gas!—fo' de lord, I's gwine to git killed, sho's yo' born!" They let up on him, he put space behind him in a hurried manner, and his usual haunts were void of his presence last evening.

The New Stock Speculation

The new combination method of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have inaugurated, is attracting much attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. A customer in Providence, invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every thirty days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s combinations with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent. on the stock, and so as the market varies. The new circular gives "two unerring rules for success," and shows how any one can operate profitably. Mailed free. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

The Rich California Banker.

When it had become known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific Coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succeed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much wider and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite orders of thousands of customers, in different sums, into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro rata among shareholders every 30 days. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay $100 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 per cent. on the stock during the month. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) gives "two unerring rules for success," and full particulars, so that any one can operate in stocks, and make money. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. *

Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Oatmeal FOR Dyspepsia.

In the last five years the consumption of Oatmeal in this country has probably increased twenty-fold. People differ so much in their likes and dislikes that we do not insist on anybody eating oatmeal because somebody else does, but the great growth of its popularity as an anti-dyspeptic is beyond doubt. Generally the Irish and Scotch Meals are considered best, but they sell comparatively high, and persons who have used both say that the Canadian and American Meals are just as good; these latter retail for 6¼c. per lb. against 15c. for former.

Oatmeal should be well cooked. As it is usually made

A BREAKFAST DISH,

It may be soaked over night, and then boiled like mush for, say half an hour. No doubt it is most wholesome eaten plain, but the temptation to use various dressings—generally sugar or cream—is too strong for any but very firm seekers, but where these are taken it should be as the Friends say, in "moderation."
